

Natural Resources Sector

Working together to create a more productive economy while improving the environment for New Zealanders

NRS KEY PRINCIPLES

- Focus on the needs of New Zealanders.
- Provide joined-up, high quality advice to Ministers.
- Create enduring partnerships and work effectively with others to deliver on our outcomes.
- Recognise we cannot achieve our individual agency goals without working together.

GOAL

To improve the productivity of New Zealand's resource-related industries while reducing their environmental impact to build a more productive and competitive economy

GOVERNANCE FOCUS AREAS

1. Maximise the productivity of agricultural and horticultural land while reducing environmental effects (MPI)
2. Provide more flexible governance options for Māori land, and assist Māori trusts and land-owners to improve the productivity of their land (TPK)
3. Encourage regional economic development with certain and timely processes for allocating access to resources, including urban land supply (MBIE)
4. Improve the efficiency of freshwater allocation and usage within limits, and encourage investment in water storage and irrigation (MFE/MPI)
5. Develop our aquaculture, fisheries and other marine resources, while maintaining marine biodiversity and sustainability (MPI)
6. Improve energy efficiency and use of renewable energy to raise productivity, reduce carbon emissions and promote consumer choice (MBIE)
